SEVEN DAYS AT A GLANCE

War News.

A dispatch from Geneva says a message received there from Bucharest states that the Russians have ascended the Danube river and landed small force of men and guns near Silistria. Silistria is on the southern bank of the Danube in Rumanian territory, some thirty miles east of where the river reaches Bulgarian soil.

According to information received from a Greek frontier station, fighting on a large scale has been proceeding between Gradiko and Velea. The Bulgarians asked for a suspension of hostilities for five hours for the purpose of burying the dead and collecting the wounded, but only two hours was granted.

Although the advance of the Germans and the Bulgarians apparently is irresistible, reports are arriving that the Servians have prepared for a desperate stand in the mountains south and west of the Morava river. This may lead to a decisive battle, far overshadowing the events of the last few weeks. Such a course, if the Germans win, would leave the railroad in shape for speedy repairs and the resumption of operations on the through route to Constantinople.

Twenty-three men were killed and fifty injured in an attack by gunfire from a submarine on the British transport Mercian in the Mediterranean. The Mercian escaped and reached port. Announcement of the attack was made by the British war office.

The Greek government is reported to have appealed to the allies for further financial assistance. A dispatch from Athens says that the government desires to obtain an additional advance of 40,000,000 francs and that this request is being considered sympathetically.

Newspapers of Berlin, as quoted by the correspondent at Copenhagen of the Exchange Telegraph Company, say that the Allies already have landed 300,000 men at Saloniki.

Capture by Germans of the main Serbian positions south of Kraljevo has been announced by the German army headquarters.

The Austro-Germans have succeeded in crossing the Morava river in Serbia and General Von Gallwitz has occupied Krusevac, one of Serbia's largest towns, about thirty miles due northwest of Nish. The fall of Krusevac means that the branch railway line to Ushitze, near the Bosnian frontier has been broken by the invaders close to the point where it leaves the main Belgrade-Saloniki line. A large number of prisoners, ten guns and a lot of war material fell into German hands.

Washington.

With three almost simultaneous fires in war munitions plants in this country recently, at Bethlehem, Eddy-stone and Trenton, it became known in Washington that the federal government has an army of investigators on the trail of a band of hyphenated plotters who are under suspicion.

The American consul at Juarez is warning Americans to leave the state of Chihuahua before there is a suspension of railroad communication, which is threatened. Most of the Americans in the Juarez district are Mormons.

The American steamer Zealandia was forcibly searched by a party from a British cruiser recently while lying in the port of Progresso, Mexico. The American consul there reports the cruiser now is lying outside, presumably waiting to seize the ship.

Earl Kitchener's ultimate mission during his mysterious absence from the British war office is said by confidential information received in Washington to be India. According to the same information British rule is confronted with a more serious state of unrest in India than has generally been known outside of British official circles.

Domestic.

About twenty-seven Americans are believed to have been lost with the torpedoed Italian liner Ancona, according to a cable to the State Department from Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page at Rome.

President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing have read American and British comment on the latest note sent by the United States to Great Britain and awaited the effect of the document on British treatment of neutral overseas trade. Ambassador Page has not reported the impression made upon the foreign office.

Detectives armed with cameras are taking photographs of every employee of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad they see taking a drink of liquor. A number of employees have been discharged.

A high wind at Hoopeston, Ill., blew down an addition to the Vermillion Malleable Iron Works, crushing to death one workman, Daniel Wickstrom, and slightly injuring three others.

Twelve persons were killed and more than 100 injured, many of them seriously, in a cyclone which swept through the residence section of Great Bend, Kas., at 7:30 the other night. The property loss is estimated at a half million dollars. The city water plant, a laundry, three flouring mills, the Santa Fe depot and fifty residences were demolished.

Tornadoes, high winds, rain and snows swept over Nebraska, South Dakota and Iowa the other night. Four persons were injured at Hartford, S. D., which was visited twice by the same tornado. Unusually heavy rains were reported with light snows in Nebraska.

This country has given less per capita to relieve the Belgians than Australia, Canada, Holland and other countries, according to Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the commission for relief in Belgium, who recently sailed for Rotterdam from New York.

The fire in the hold of the passenger steamship Rochambeau, which broke out after the liner left New York, has been extinguished and the steamship is now proceeding to Bordeaux.

The federal grand jury at New York has returned indictments against six of the alleged conspirators in the plot to blow up vessels carrying munitions of war to the Allies.

The Germans have assessed a charge of three-quarters of million dollars a year against Warsaw for the maintenance of the military garrison there, according to Warsaw newspapers reaching London.

The Southwest.

Mary Foster, the Trenton, Mo., girl, who was wounded when three Oklahoma convicts attempted to escape from the state penitentiary January 19, 1914, has filed suit against Warden R. W. Dick for $20,000 damages. The suit is in the United States court in Muskogee.

Mayor O. W. Dawson of Great Bend, Kas., has appointed two committees, one to solicit funds at home, the other to appraise the loss by the recent storm at every home and business house. The appraisal, unfinished, puts the loss in Great Bend slightly below a million dollars.

Morris Fisher and his wife, wealthy Choctaw Indians, were found dead on their farm five miles from Hugo, Okla. Their heads were blown off with charges of buckshot. No arrests have been made.

One hundred delegates from Eastern Oklahoma will attend the meeting of the Jefferson Highway Association in New Orleans to induce that organization to select the Katy Highway as the route of the Jefferson Highway through Oklahoma and Kansas.

John Irvin of Irvin, Ill., a wealthy man and for whom the town was named, fell from a Santa Fe west-bound passenger train at Gage, Okla., the other day and was killed.

Mrs. Alma Morgan shot Allen Godley while he stood before the judge's stand in district court at Corsicana, Tex., where he had been arraigned on a charge of seduction. A dangerous wound was inflicted.

The 9-year-old daughter of Paul Richey, a farmer near Prague, Okla., fell into a pile of cotton recently and was smothered to death. She evidently had been playing and dug the hole into which she fell.

Foreign.

A sweeping campaign against the remaining Villa forces in the states of Chihuahua and Sonora was indicated in the news from interior Mexican points, which have been temporary headquarters for General Venustiano Carranza on his tour of northern Mexican states.

The Italian steamer Ancona was not sunk without warning, according to information obtained from survivors landed at Malta by the Reuter correspondent and cabled to London. The Austrian submarine, which overhauled the Ancona after a long chase, gave the commander a brief respite to permit the removal of passengers.

The Associated Press has been authorized to say that the Chinese government has decided no change would be made this year in the form of government of the country.

The British steamship Woolwich, 2,936 tons, owned by the British Steamship Company and sailing from London, has been sunk by a German submarine. The crew was saved.

The Italian liner Ancona has been sunk by a large submarine flying the Austrian colors in the Mediterranean off the African coast. The Ancona carried 422 passengers and sixty in the crew. Two hundred and seventy survivors, some of them wounded, have been landed at Bizerta, Tunis.

England is resentful of the tone of President Wilson's note concerning the British blockade of the German coast. Comment by the "man in the street" is far more outspoken in this respect than were the newspapers.

While E. V. Lemon was entertaining friends at his home in El Reno, he died from an attack of heart failure. His wife and child were at Calumet visiting relatives when his death occurred.

Investigation by farmers in Woods county develops that the hessian fly is busy in the early sown and volunteer wheat. Some of the fields were found so badly infected that there is no probability of their making a crop.

James and Hood Baldwin, residing near Broken Bow, who were convicted several months ago in Sevier county, Ark., on a charge of bank robbery were pardoned by Governor Hays last week. The brothers are among the leading residents in the Broken Bow vicinity. They were serving six years each. The Baldwins were accused of being the masked bandits who robbed the bank of Gilham of $1,000 in daylight last April.

A. J. Discher, of Bartlesville, recognized as the greatest authority in the world on the production and marketing of natural gas, is said to be at the head of a company, capitalized at $1,500,000, organizing to construct a pipeline into the Newkirk gas field.

Bugs.

"Isn't this awful!" exclaimed Mrs. Gabb as she looked up from her newspaper.

"Isn't what awful?" demanded Mr. Gabb.
"Why here's a woman who complains that the insane asylum is filled with bugs," replied Mrs. Gabb.
"Well," growled Mr. Gabb, "what's the blame place for, anyway?"

Salmon Thrive in Maine.

Success has been met by the bureau of fisheries in establishing hump-back salmon on the Maine coast, according to reports from that territory. The fish were planted in February, 1914. Many fish weighing five to seven and a half pounds have been taken or seen in Penobscot river, Me., and twenty were captured alive by agents of the bureau near Bangor and held in an effort to obtain ripe eggs. From two of these fish 3,000 eggs were taken September 6, and, after fertilization, sent to the Craig Brook hatchery for incubation. Local fishermen caught and ate large numbers, and an employee of the Green Lake hatchery took fifteen fish last week. These had passed through the fishways in dams in Dennys river and were dropping down stream in a spent condition; at the same time both live and dead fish were observed below the dams.

Out of Sorts

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the foetid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Charles H. Fletcher.

Landlord's Way.

talking about Germany's submarine policy in New York.

"When Germany told us we Americans might cross the seas in safety provided we used such ships as she offered, I nearly died laughing," he said.

"I was irresistibly reminded of the poet who complained to his landlord: 'Landlord, I really must insist on your repairing my doors and windows. They close so badly that it interrupts my work. It blows my hair all about my face.'"

"Humph," said the landlord. "The easiest way out of that difficulty is for you to get your hair cut off."—New York Times.

She Knew.

Olive, four years old, went for a walk with her father one June morning. Hearing a bird singing by the roadside, she stopped to admire his beautiful black-and-white coat.

"Oh, papa!" she exclaimed, "see this bobolink!"

"How do you know it's a bobolink?" asked her father.

"Cause I distinctly heard it bobble," was the reply.

An Extremist.

"I see that a man aged one hundred and two has just died in the poor-house."

"He lived long and died short, eh?"

Not Guilty.

There had been a railway collision near a country town in Virginia, and a shrewd lawyer had hurried from Richmond to the scene of the disaster. He noticed an old colored man with a badly injured head, and hurried up to him where he lay moaning on the ground.

"How about damages?" began the lawyer.

But the sufferer waved him off.

"G'way, boss, g'way," he said. "I never hit de train. I never done sich a thing in all mah life, so help me Gawd! Yo' can't git no damages outen me."

Handy.

"I've started a ten-cent box for Christmas, dear!" said the better half.

"You won't forget it, will you?"

"Me forget it!" replied the other fraction. "Why, how can you say such a thing? Of course I won't forget it."

And he didn't. The very next day he shook four dimes out of the box to meet a deficiency in his car-fare allowance.

One Year More.

"My but Percy has grown to be a big boy. How tall are you, Percy?"

"Just an inch short of being able to wear father's tennis trousers, but they'll be all right next summer."—New York World.

SCORE UP ONE FOR JONES

Sarcastic Comment Will Be Appreciated by Those Who Favor Old-Time Methods of Travel.

Down in the crimson clover zone there were two farmers named Jones and Smith, respectively. Jones was old-fashioned and stuck to old-fashioned ways, but Smith, who was more modern, bought a fine new automobile. One day he was proudly exhibiting to some friends when Jones came along.

"Um," remarked Jones, as he thoughtfully sized up the handsome machine. "What's that thing there on the side?"

"That's a spare rim and a tire," answered the proud Smith. "We always carry an extra one in case one of the wheels goes wrong."

"Jes' as I allus said," was the disdainful response of Jones. "I've druv hosses fer nigh on 50 years, and I never had to carry a spare leg for one o' them yet."—Philadelphia Press.

Thought Umbrellas Unmilitary.

Umbrellas and khaki seem a most unlikely combination; yet one instance is recorded of British soldiers taking their umbrellas into action, according to the London Chronicle. On December 10, 1813, during the battle of the Nive, the Grenadier guards captured a redoubt outside Bayonne. While they were in possession of this Wellington passed by and noticed that the officers had umbrellas up to protect themselves from the heavy rain.

He sent back his aide-de-camp, Lord Arthur Hill, to tell them that "the duke does not approve of the use of umbrellas in action. The guards' officers may, if they please, carry umbrellas even in uniform when on duty at St. James; but in the field it is not only ridiculous, but unmilitary."

Zero.

"We don't hear much about Doctor Cook since the time he claimed to have discovered the North pole."

"No; I daresay he never fully recovered from the terrible frost he encountered."

Curative Value In Food?

"Recalling that 90% of disease results from errors in diet, then foods properly prescribed by the physician can justly be said to have curative value."
—Dr. Henry B. Hollen, in The Medical Standard.

One of the errors in the diet of many people is the use of foods robbed of the vital mineral salts (phosphate of potash, etc.) which are absolutely necessary for proper balance of body, brain and nerves. The result is a long list of ills, including nervous prostration, kidney trouble, constipation, rickets in children, and so on.

Twenty years ago a whole wheat and barley food, containing all the nutriment of the grain, including the priceless mineral elements, was devised especially to correct errors in diet. That food is

Grape-Nuts

It fulfills its mission admirably.

Another physician says:

"Nearly half the year my breakfast consists of a dish of Grape-Nuts, one or two eggs, or fruit. I RECOMMEND IT TO MY PATIENTS CONSTANTLY, and invariably with good results."

This wholesome food not only builds sturdy health and strength, but fortifies the system against disease. Ready-to-eat, nourishing, economical, delicious—
